

The Bananas have sold out the past

32

regular season games

CANADA

GREAT BRITAIN

FRANCE

INDIA

CHINA

THE PHILIPPINES

COLOMBIA

AUSTRALIA

We've been lucky to meet fans from all over the world who have attended games and bought Bananas merchandise.

On August 5th, the Bananas welcomed their 100,000th fan of 2017.

At his first ever Bananas game, D'Angelo was the lucky 100,000th fan.

After being sprayed with silly string and lifted into the air by the team, he spent the rest of the evening watching the game from the dugout!

For the second year, the Bananas have come in 2nd in the country in attendance, according to Ballpark Digest.

The regular season brought in 108,498 fans. Almost 10,000 more than the third place team - despite have ten fewer home games.

The Bananas also lead the Coastal Plain League in attendance for the second year in a row and ranked 73rd out of all collegiate, independent, and Minor League baseball teams.

SAVANNAH BANANAS

108,498

LA CROSSE LOGGERS

99,070

OKOTOKS DAWGS

94,397

KENOSHA KINGFISH

86,291

KALAMAZOO GROWLERS

82,758

ELMIRA PIONEERS

73,328

The Bananas are beating their own records too.

The Bananas welcomed 17,494 more fans than they did in 2017. They broke the league attendance record they set in 2016 (91,004). The team also sold out 8 more games than they did in 2016.